We are Rich Mix. We are an arts centre and charity welcoming the communities of the world in East London to create, enjoy and share culture. All income from workspace rentals directly supports our charitable mission to transform lives through creativity.

WHO WE ARE

Our programme covers every genre imaginable – from live music, spoken word, comedy and theatre in our performance spaces, to independent films and blockbusters across our three-screen cinema. Through our creative engagement programme, we transform the lives of young people, children and adults through creativity.

Located in the heart of Shoreditch, our landmark five-floor building offers a great variety of flexible workspaces and music, film and TV production studios at competitive commercial and charity rates.

Our workspaces are a blank canvas for your organisation – a place to host clients, hold meetings, produce work, and gather your team together in-person.

MISSION

Our mission is to welcome the communities of the world in East London to create, enjoy and share culture.

The pursuit of our mission is underpinned and framed by the following values:

OPEN

We are open, generous, accessible, and welcoming.

CREATIVE

We nurture all forms of creativity, and we are also a creative force.

AMBITIOUS

We support ambitious artists and ideas in the belief that art and culture have the power to bring people together.

INCLUSIVE

We champion equality and diversity and strive to represent, reflect, and respect different voices and perspectives.

COLLABORATIVE

We work in partnership with artists, companies and communities both locally and internationally.

REIMAGINING RICH MIX

It's an exciting time to join us as a resident as we embark on the second phase of our Reimagining Rich Mix project, which looks to adapt our ground floor and yard.

Back in May 2022, we were delighted to announce that we were successful in our application to Arts Council England's Capital Investment Programme for the next phase of Reimagining Rich Mix – making the most of our building and giving people more ways to connect with us.

We want our building to be as inclusive and vibrant as we are, with an inviting welcome, sociable spaces, and places for creative chatter and collaboration – a meeting place for the cultures and communities of East London and beyond.

The first phase, completed in early 2022, redeveloped parts of our first floor – creating a Cinema Bar (perfect for meetings), dedicated Creative Engagement space The Lab, an artist green room and a visual arts gallery space.

Our proposals for the ground floor look to:

- Create a new entrance on Redchurch Street, with a green area in our yard
- Improve our welcome for visitors and residents, and make it easier to navigate the space
- Improve our access for disabled visitors, residents and team members, including the creation of a Changing Places toilet
- Create a new visual arts and community space, and area for eating and drinking

‘Our favourite thing about being a resident is the sheer range of amazing work that is taking place all around the building. It’s incredible to think of all of the different skill sets and passionate people in this building that are reaching so many people.’

BEING A RICH MIX RESIDENT

Our building is home to more than 20 resident organisations, working in fields from theatrical production and contemporary art to lighting design, charitable work and music education. What connects our residents, and us, is creativity, energy and a passion for the communities they work with.

Becoming a Rich Mix resident means joining this creative community; we are not a co-working space, so all our resident organisations are able to truly make their home here – surrounded by creativity and the buzzing atmosphere of our central Shoreditch location.

And remember – we are a charity, so all income from workspace rentals directly supports our mission to transform lives through creativity.

BEING A RICH MIX RESIDENT: MEMBERSHIP

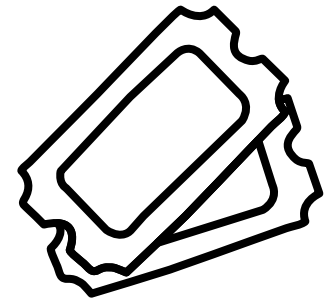

We want to foster a true sense of community among all those who work for our resident organisations – so we created the Rich Mix Residents' Membership.

Everyone who currently works for a Rich Mix resident organisation is eligible – simply visit our Box Office on the ground floor to claim your free membership card, then start enjoying the benefits!

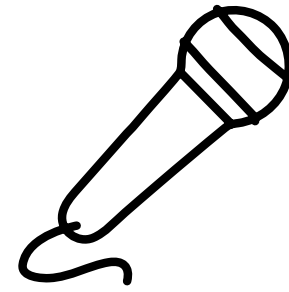

‘We love that this is an arts space whose values and vision align with what we do. It’s good to come to work in an office that shares/reflects our purpose.’

EQUALITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION AT RICH MIX

Our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion policy and action plan is monitored by the Board and is coordinated by a working group made up of representatives from different departments across the organisation. It sets out how we will meet and exceed our duties under the Equalities Act, proactively recognising and removing the barriers which people from all backgrounds may face in engaging with the organisation and our activities, as well as contributing to a more inclusive arts and cultural sector for all.

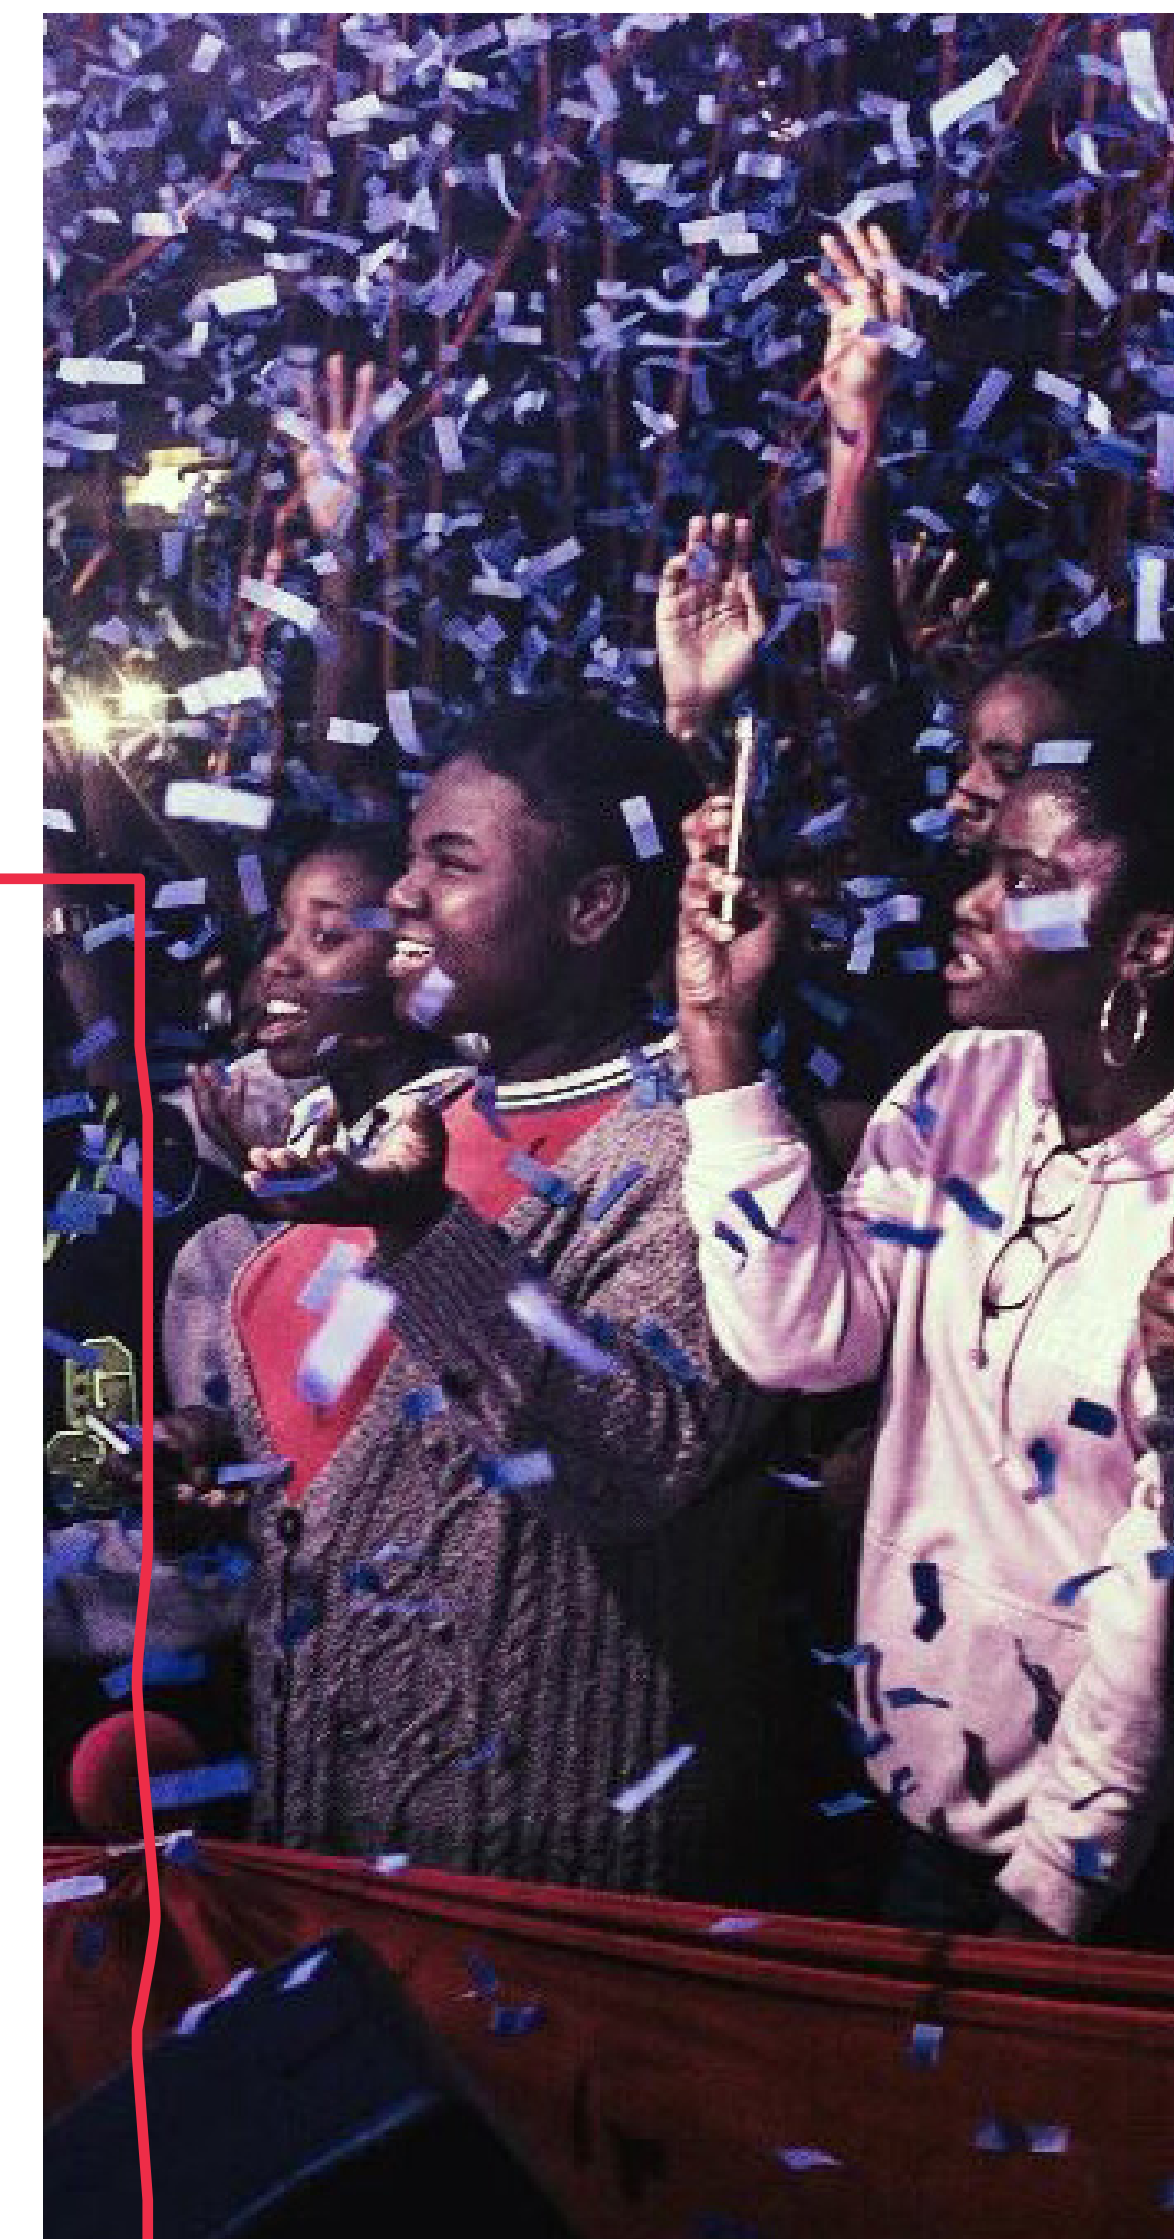

Rich Mix Cultural Foundation was set up ‘to work towards the elimination of racial discrimination’ (taken from the charity’s founding articles).

Striving for equality of opportunity is in our DNA and plays out today by our platforming of marginalised voices, our non-judgemental attitude to culture in all its forms, our commitment to multi-disciplinary programmes, and our work in the local community removing barriers to creativity.

We expect all tenants in our building to adhere to a code of conduct to help us protect everyone’s right to come to work with dignity and without unacceptable behaviour.

Rich Mix is committed to:

- Equal treatment for all.
- Providing an environment in which everyone is treated with dignity and respect.
- Ensuring that everyone can operate free from any type of discrimination, harassment, or victimisation.

‘We love being around other creative people, charities and businesses. Because our work is all about having a positive impact on the community, it’s important that we’re based in a venue that is so strongly rooted in the local community’

ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY AT RICH MIX

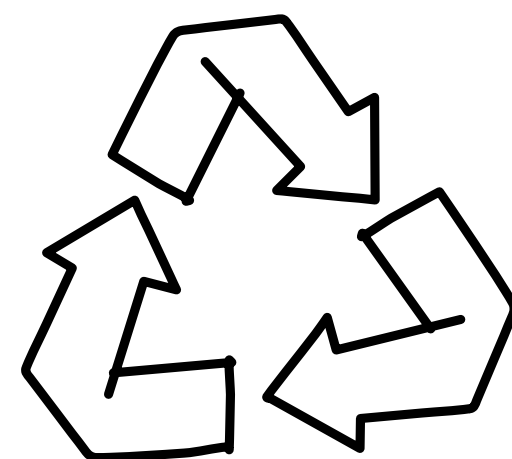

We recognise that as a community organisation, and as individuals, we have a responsibility to change our actions now so that we can have a cleaner, healthier future in our neighbourhood and the world.

We therefore encourage and empower our residents, audiences, partners, staff and stakeholders to be vocal on how we can become more sustainable as an organisation and in this area of London, through our programme and around the building.

We are currently reporting at 4 out of 5 with Julie's Bicycle's yearly Green Tool and are at a Bronze for our Green Tourism Award, with the aim of reaching 5 out of 5 and a Gold award within the next year.

We want to:

- SAVE ENERGY by reviewing our operations and working practices
- REDUCE WASTE by promoting best practices for recycling – we are already zero-to-landfill and are always looking at cleaner ways to reduce waste and energy usage
- RAISE AWARENESS of the impact our organisation and individuals have on the environment, and minimise the negative effects of our activities by working closely with our community.
